Bryan is a Socialist, not a Democrat, says the New York World. Socialism is having a hard enough time without this handicap.

Do you want a kid to settle your estate? The Democratic candidate is but a kid in experience and judgment, whatever he may be in years.

La Follette suffered a setback in the primary election in Wisconsin, his candidate for Governor being defeated. La Follette's sins of radicalism are too much for Wisconsin.

Charles A. Walsh, Democratic national committeeman for Iowa, has resigned, to which action he says he was forced by corrupt corporation and boss control of his party. That is an Iowa idea that sounds familiar enough to have originated in Missouri.

The Sparta Leader started last week on its sixth volume. It has lately passed into the hands of Handy & Handy, with the former owner, J. S. McPherson, as associate editor. It shows considerable improvement in several ways, and ought to receive the liberal support of its town and community.

The greatest fleet of warships ever assembled under the flag of the United States was reviewed by President Roosevelt Monday of last week at Oyster Bay. In his address to the members of the naval committee the president said: "Any man who fails to be patriotically inspired by such a sight as this is a mighty poor American."

The candidate who will not get out and rustle for the whole ticket has but slight claims on the active support of his brother candidates or his brother partisans. The nominees represent the combined sentiment of a majority of the members of the party, and if a candidate is not willing to respect that sentiment he has no reason to complain if no special exertion be made in his behalf.

The Stone County Oracle is making an earnest plea for better roads. The Republican is with it in this crusade. Bad and impassable roads is the source of the greatest single item of loss the farmer, and not the farmer only, but all the people, are forced to bear. Much can be done by selecting for road overseers only men of energy, good judgment and a large property interest in the community, but the best roads are not to be obtained under present road laws, where men in adjoining communities are working independently, without any general plan, and often at cross purposes. No work can be properly done in small sections without some general harmonious plan, and some supervising authority. The legislation asked for by the Republican party will look toward this greatly-to-be-desired end. It can be hastened by voting for the Republican candidates to the next legislature. The fact that Governor Folk failed to call a special session of the legislature will postpone for two years the date at which it will be possible that such legislation may had, but something can be done if the road overseers of the county, of each county, will get together, exchange views, formulate plans and then go into their respective road districts and work in accordance with such plans. The county surveyor should be invited to attend such meetings and make suggestions based on his intimate knowledge of the topography of the county. This paper would be glad to be authorized to call such a meeting. Good could not well fail to result. Shall we have the pleasure of publishing the call?

Mr. Bryan says there is "No more corrupting influence in American politics than the railroads," hence he believes in the government ownership of railroads. More people believe the saloon to be the most corrupting influence in American politics, hence, by the same logic, the government should own the saloons. In the same breath he declares that he is opposed to centralization of power, yet his policy would so centralize power in the hands of the party in power when it should go into effect that its lapse of power could probably be broken by nothing short of a revolution. State ownership of railroads would place in the hands of the party in power in each state a machine that could not be beaten. The people of the United States are not enmeshed of political machines, and are yearly becoming less tolerant of them. The Bryan program is disrupting his party, and there is little doubt that the returns will show the overwhelming dissent of the people when they have opportunity to pass judgment.

Roger C. Sullivan, the Illinois Democratic committeeman whom Mr. Bryan is trying to crowd off the earth politically, says Bryan is neither honest, sincere nor truthful, and challenges him to a poll of the members of the delegates through whom he (Sullivan) secured his place as committeeman two years ago, with the understanding that if the poll sustains Bryan's fraud charge he (Sullivan) will resign from the committee, but if it falls Bryan shall cease to be a candidate for the presidency. Sullivan declares that no man is fit to lead who lies, in a declaration which men of all parties should ratify. Mr. Bryan has given out no counter statement.

Scientific evidence shows the recent Chilean earthquake to have been much the greater in both area and intensity. Its compass extent was about thirteen hundred miles against four hundred in the case of the California quake, and its width about four hundred miles against about fifty. But we are not too proud to concede the South American shake to have been the greater, and might even go so far as to admit that the San Francisco tremble was "no great shakes" after all.

Rev. Sam Small says: "The old crusade against human slavery came out of the north, but the new crusade against the liquor traffic is coming out of the south," and the fact that in the election in Arkansas last week 53 out of 55 counties voted dry seems to corroborate his opinion.

As an incident showing the estrangement from Bryan produced by his radical and impracticable declaration on public ownership of railroads the failure of the second West Virginia district convention to endorse him is of considerable interest.

Fletcher D. Proctor, son of U. S. Senator Proctor, was elected governor of Vermont by a plurality of 15,000 over the Independent Democratic candidate, after an unusually hot campaign.

Secretary of the treasury, Hon. Leslie M. Shaw, is to speak in Joplin September 19. Secretary Shaw is an Iowa idea that is popular in Missouri.

A Democratic Criticism.
Out of the 300 and more named of Democrats going on committees to receive and welcome Mr. Bryan back to the land of the free, how does it happen that there is not a single farmer or laboring man going out to meet Willie, the commoer.

We find the names of hoodlums, grafters, brewers, saloon keepers, broken down politicians, pie counter pickers and the refuse that honest Democrats have thrown on the political dump heap, but no farmers. If Mr. Bryan should be the next president everyone of these political vultures would be camping on his trail for fat jobs, and swarm through the white house like green flies around a dead carcass.—Rolla Sharp Shooter (Dem.)

To Republicans.
We are anxious to have every Republican in close touch, and working in harmony with the Republican National Congressional committee in favor of the election of a Republican congress.
The congressional campaign must be based on the administrative and legislative record of the party, and that being so, Theodore Roosevelt's personality must be a central figure and his achievements a central thought in the campaign.

We desire to maintain the work of this campaign with popular subscriptions of One Dollar each from Republicans. To each subscriber we will send the Republican National Campaign text book and all documents issued by the committee.

Help us achieve a great victory.

G. A. R. and Gray Reunion at Kirbyville.
A grand annual reunion of the Blue and the Gray is to be held at Kirbyville, September 19, 20, 21 and 22, four days. There will be good speakers each day, a bean dinner the second day and a barbecue the third. Plenty of shade, good water, and the usual stands and amusements. Everybody invited.

For the Children

To succeed these days you must have plenty of grit, courage, strength. How is it with the children? Are they thin, pale, delicate? Do not forget Ayer's Sarsaparilla. You know it makes the blood pure and rich, and builds up the general health in every way.

The children cannot possibly have good health unless the bowels are in proper condition. A sluggish liver gives a coated tongue, bad humors, constipated bowels. Correct all these by giving small laxative doses of Ayer's Pills. All vegetable, sugar coated.
